For this child I prayed; and the Lord hath given me my petition which I asked of him:
Therefore also I have lent him to the Lord; as long as he liveth he shall be lent to the Lord.
And he worshipped the Lord there.

All I Need to Know About Life I Learned from Jesus (Part 1)

By Rebecca Rushmore

Part 1:

- I know I'm special because Jesus loves me (John 3:16).
- Jesus is happy when I obey my parents and play well with others (Ephesians 6:1).
- When I am kind to others, I am following Jesus' example (Matthew 7:12). I must be an example to others as Jesus is my example (1 Corinthians 11:1).

Part 2 (Next Week):

- My sins caused Jesus to die (Romans 5:6-8).
- Jesus made the ultimate sacrifice, so I should be willing to sacrifice for others (1 Corinthians 15:1-4).
- Jesus spent his life teaching others the way of salvation. I must be willing to do the same (Mark 16:15-16).

Children begin learning at birth. They immediately begin accumulating information. This data comes from all five senses. As the child grows, the acquired facts are related to each other in a way that becomes meaningful. For example, a baby hears the sounds of words every day. Soon, the words come to have meaning. The child will respond to his name being called. Eventually, the baby begins to say the words himself to get a response (asking for a drink). The words that are used around the child become part of his vocabulary.

Many parents do not feel the need to bring their children to Bible class. Some believe that newborns and very young children will get nothing out of the class. This, however, is not true. All children, even newborn babies, can greatly benefit from attending Bible class. Consider, for a moment, the lines above.

I know I'm special because Jesus loves me. One song most every child can sing is "Jesus Loves Me." In the beginning, young children may not understand the full meaning of the words. As they grow, the words will begin to have a strong meaning for them. Everyone needs to feel they are special, that they are loved. This is a good beginning. Knowing that Jesus loves me can be some very powerful words through the tough growing years to come. If the child is taught this concept early, it will remain with him even through the difficult times.

Jesus is happy when I obey my parents and play well with others. Toddlers can learn the difference between happy and sad. They know when they do something that does not make Mommy or Daddy happy. Young children learn to play nicely with others. When children can relate these concepts to what they know, real people, it makes sense to apply this knowledge to Jesus. Let children know that they can please Jesus. Name things that make parents happy and tell them these things also make Jesus happy. Use these ideas to begin teaching obedience to God at an early age. Consider the examples set by Hannah (1 Samuel 1) and Timothy's mother and grandmother (2 Tim 1:5).
